

Dr. YAMADA Mitsuru
Professor, School of Social Sciences, Waseda University

[Profile]

Dr. YAMADA Mitsuru, who is a professor of School of Social Sciences, specializes in international relations, international cooperation and peacebuilding and the politics of Southeast Asia. He served Dean of School of Social Sciences, Graduate School of Social Sciences, and Director of Institute for Advanced Social Sciences from 2016 to 2018. He now serves Director of Institute for Asian Human Community and Deputy Director of The Hirayama Ikuo Volunteer Center.

He graduated from Faculty of Law at Chuo University. He received his master degree in International Relations at Ohio University, USA and his doctorate in political science from National Kobe University.

He edited several books and has many joint authors and articles such as conflicts & peace, Asian studies, National integration, and others. For example: Complex Emergencies and Humanitarian Response, Union Press, 2018. Atarashii Kokusai Kyoryoku-ron (New Perspective for International Cooperation), Akashi-shoten, 2018. Nanmin wo Shirutame-no Kiso-chishiki (The Basic Knowledge for Refugees), Akashi-shoten, 2017.